

To All Nagoya University Students Regarding Overseas Travel

Due to the spread of the novel coronavirus, Nagoya University is implementing the following regulations to protect students and other members of the community. We ask for your understanding and cooperation.

- We strongly request to cancel or postpone overseas travel. Additionally, if you are currently travelling overseas, please consider returning to Japan at once.

If you are travelling overseas for a study abroad program, please contact the person in charge of the respective program.

- Should you be infected with the novel coronavirus and be unable to return to Japan, contact your school/department and the Student Exchange Division immediately (corona@adm.nagoya-u.ac.jp) .

- Students entering Japan from a country with a Travel Advisory and Warning must quarantine themselves at home for two weeks.

“Countries with a Travel Advisory and Warning” are those the Ministry of Foreign Affairs identifies in the Level 2 (avoid non-essential travel) or higher category at risk of infectious disease.

<https://www.anzen.mofa.go.jp/masters/tawinfectiousdiseases.html>

Level 1 (exercise caution), Level 2 (avoid non-essential travel),

Level 3 (avoid all travel), Level 4 (evacuate and avoid all travel)

Students should follow all policies implemented by the Japanese Government.

- If there is an urgent procedure that must be completed while you are quarantined or at home, please contact your school/department by phone or email.

Nagoya University and its schools will consider the situation and respond as flexibly as possible.

Contact information for the Educational Affairs Division

<http://en.nagoya-u.ac.jp/admissions/schools/index.html>

For further information about Nagoya University and the novel coronavirus, please click the following link. (The English website is under construction.)

<http://www.nagoya-u.ac.jp/info/covid-19.html#single-title>

<http://www.nagoya-u.ac.jp/info/covid-19.html#single-title>

